DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-28 have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Talpade et al. U.S. Pub. No. 20040148520 (hereinafter Talpade) in view of Fan et al. U.S. Pat. No. 6219706 (hereinafter Fan).

4. As per claim 1, Talpade discloses a method of preventing an attack on a network, the method comprising the computer-implemented steps of: receiving an ICMP packet that includes a copy of a header associated with a connection in a connection-oriented transport protocol (Talpade: [0020]: analyze packet header for packet filtering for ICMP). Talpade does not explicitly disclose obtaining a packet sequence value from the header; determining if the packet sequence value is valid; updating a parameter value associated with the transport protocol connection only if the packet sequence value is determined to be valid. However, Fan discloses filtering packets based on the sequence number presented in the header portion of a packet (Fan: column 10 lines 27-51). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to utilize the sequence number contained in the connection-oriented packet into the sequence number field of the ICMP packet because the sequence field is contained in both ICMP and TCP packets. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to combine the teachings of Fan within the system of Talpade because it allows packet filter to analyze invalid range of value presented in header for filtering purposes.

5. As per claim 2, Talpade as modified discloses the method of claim 1. Talpade as modified further discloses wherein the step of receiving an ICMP packet comprises receiving an ICMP packet that includes a copy of a TCP header associated with a TCP connection (Fan: column 10 lines 27-51). Same rationale applies here as above in rejecting claim 1.

6. As per claim 3, Talpade as modified discloses the method of claim 1. Talpade as modified further discloses wherein the step of receiving an ICMP packet comprises receiving an ICMP "endpoint unreachable" error packet (Talpade: [0006]: denial of service attack).

7. As per claim 4, Talpade as modified discloses the method of claim 1. Talpade as modified further discloses wherein the step of receiving an ICMP packet comprises receiving an ICMP packet that specifies that fragmentation is needed (Talpade: [0020]: ICMP messages).

8. As per claim 5, Talpade as modified discloses the method of claim 1. Talpade as modified further discloses wherein the step of determining if the packet sequence value is valid comprises determining if the packet sequence value is within a range of packet sequence values that are allowed by the transport protocol for the connection (Fan: column 10 lines 27-51).

9. As per claim 6, Talpade as modified discloses the method of claim 1. Talpade as modified further discloses wherein the step of determining if the packet sequence value is valid comprises determining if the packet sequence value is within a range of sent but unacknowledged TCP packet sequence values for the connection (Fan: column 10 lines 27-51).

10. As per claim 7, Talpade as modified discloses the method of claim 1. Talpade as modified further discloses wherein the step of determining if the packet sequence value is valid comprises determining if the packet sequence value is exactly equal to one or more sequence values of one or more packets that are then-currently stored in a TCP re-transmission buffer, starting at a sequence value of a previously sent segment that resulted in receiving the ICMP packet (Fan: column 10 lines 35-41).

11. As per claim 8, Talpade as modified discloses the method of claim 1. Talpade as modified further discloses wherein the steps are performed in a router acting as a TCP endpoint node (Talpade: [0020]: sensor/firewall).

12. As per claim 9, Talpade as modified discloses the method of claim 1. Talpade as modified further discloses wherein the steps are performed in a firewall device (Talpade: [0020]; Fan: column 10 lines 27-51: firewall/packet filter).

Art Unit: 2131

13. As per claim 10-28, claims 10-28 encompass the same scope as claims 1-9. Therefore, claims 10-28 are rejected based on the same reason set forth above in rejecting claims 1-9.

Conclusion

14. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Goldberg et al. U.S. Pub. No. 20040013112 discloses dynamic packet filtering utilizing session tracking.
